PROFILE

Senior full-stack engineer and technical lead with a track record of taking healthcare products from concept to production. Java and Spring Boot on the backend, React on the front, AWS underneath, and teams of 5–10 engineers across three countries shipping weekly into U.S. hospitals under HIPAA.

EXPERIENCE

Veltiston AI — Athens, hybrid

Senior Software Engineer — May 2026 – present

Founding Engineer — May 2024 – May 2026

- One of the first engineers at an AI healthcare startup founded by MIT Professor Dimitris Bertsimas; grew into Technical Lead of the flagship Nurse Scheduling platform and project lead on three projects.
- Architected and built the cloud-native Nurse Scheduling platform (Java, Spring Boot, React, MySQL, AWS), now live in four major U.S. hospitals.
- Took it beyond the web with a React Native mobile app, so nurses check their schedule and set their shift preferences from their phone.
- Leads cross-functional teams of 5–10 developers across Greece, Boston (USA) and Morocco: architecture, technical decisions, code reviews and sprint planning.
- Also software lead at Holistic Hospital Optimization, a sister company in the Dynamic Ideas group: length-of-stay optimisation and SMART on FHIR integrations.
- Delivered an AI documentation assistant (Spring AI, RAG), SMART on FHIR apps inside Epic EHR, SAML 2.0 SSO, UKG integration, notifications and audit logging.
- Modernised a legacy Java/Angular application through Agile practices, engineering standards, CI/CD, documentation and incremental refactoring.
- Ships weekly, secure, HIPAA-compliant releases with customers, Product, QA and DevOps; runs technical interviews, mentors and onboards engineers.

IBM — Athens, on-site

DevOps Engineer — November 2023 – May 2024

- Core banking transformation at the National Bank of Greece: migrating legacy PL/I and COBOL systems to Infosys Finacle.
- Designed the integration architecture for legacy subsystems in both the coexistence and target states.
- Deployments and CI/CD automation with Jenkins, Podman, ELK and Grafana.
- Represented IBM Greece at an international Agile & Enterprise Design Thinking bootcamp in Hamburg.
